TAKLA/SDC SURVEYS

We began populating our very own database to store members' valuable information from this survey.

If you haven't already, contact our Community Liaison Officer, Michael Teegee OR visit our website:
www.sasuchan.ca/survey

The survey incentive is still up as well! We do need to remind members that if you have already completed the survey, you do not need to complete it again unless you want to add information to your profile.

If you have already previously completed the survey, you are not eligible to join the monthly gift card draw.

October 2019

October Operations Update

- SDC has closed the bids for the Lovell Cove and will announce the camp contractor sometime at the end of October.
- SDC has been engaged by Sun Metals to assist them in their mining exploration projects this winter.
- There will be pile burning in Takla Landing for the work that was done this summer. We will try our best to keep the smoke away from the community.
- Reminder that we need to use our radios and call our kilometers on the Forest Service Roads, it is a safety thing, especially as the winter is coming.

We have started to film quick, monthly operations videos because we know how big of a hit video content is, so to check those out pop by our Facebook page.

Environmental Technician Certificate Program

We had announced that we were collaborating with Takla Nation to provide the opportunity for members to apply for this environmental technician program. Unfortunately, we had to postpone this training to April 20 – May 22, 2020. We have received tons of interest and inquiries, and if you have submitted your name, we will be in contact with you closer to the date of training. We apologize for this delay, but do not worry it is still happening!

Small Business Funding

In regards to the small business funding, we are currently reviewing the process. We do have to ensure that members understand that the current funding we have now is reserved as start-up. Funds. So, if you are succeeding with your business, you may not be eligible for funding.

There are resources available for anyone looking to start their own business, a few being Community Futures and Aboriginal Business Development Centre, that will help you through the stress of writing a business plan, applying for loans/grants, etc.

If you have any questions regarding small business start-up funds, please do not hesitate to contact us.
